Kookaburra Chronicles

A Busy TERM 3 in TA12

Term 3 has been both exciting and busy in TA12.

In our Talk for Writing lessons we were learning how to write information reports and our text map was titled Ridgeback Dragons. We incorporated art into our learning by doing a dragon drawing and making model dragons.

Our STEM challenge was to research then construct a tall tower or building, and to then build it using only newspaper and sticky tape.

In HASS we have been learning about the gold rush and early explorers in our country. We all had to do a research assignment about early explorers and we also did charcoal sketches of gold miners during the 1800's.

Excitement came our way as we participated in the Book Week Parade, Edu Dance and the Faction Carnival.

It has been a fun but busy term.

Dear Families,

Term 3 is all but over, and the students have certainly been busy. From swimming lessons, open night preparation, to a successful faction carnival, Book Week Parade and Book Fair and Edu Dance, the school has continued to engage and involve students in activities that are providing all children with opportunities to flourish and shine. Extra curricula programs are a strength of South Padbury Primary School, and an area the school has exciting plans to continue developing in the future.

I want to compliment the students on their attitude and behaviour during our many whole school activities this term. It has been impressive to see the mateship, encouragement and enthusiasm the students bring with them to school, and the consideration of others, including adults, which is often on display. Yet another strength of the school, the high expectations it holds with regard to student behaviour, and the support the school receives from parents with these expectations.

Thank you to our parents who have supported the school this term, as we navigated through some tough decisions, that now see us move towards hopefully, the end of COVID restrictions in the near future. And also to our community volunteers who have given their time to ensure the continuation of many school activities. Dare I say, another strength of this school, a community that is happy to help and support each other with positive messages and actions.

I wish all South Padbury families a wonderful holiday break. Take your children outdoors, enjoy the fresh air, sunshine and some time together. We look forward to seeing everyone back on Monday 12th October, for what I'm sure will be a fast paced and busy Term 4, as well as an exciting one for our graduating Year 6 students.

Happy Holidays!

Winning Design for our School Choir Shirts

On hearing of the chance to design a new choir shirt for the school, I was so excited and when I was chosen by Mrs Pollard I was so proud. My design is a combination of symbols. The kookaburra represents our school and is always singing showing how the kids in the choir love singing. The colours show our South Padbury colours and the note colours represent the colours of the Aboriginal flag, to respect the traditional owners of our land. I look forward to the choir all wearing our new shirts in a performance.
